

STATPROBE currently has Statistical Programmer positions available at several of our offices: Columbus, OH; Lexington, KY; and San Diego, CA. All of these positions offer relocation assistance. The following is the job description for the position:

Job Title	Statistical Programmer
Status	Available
Location	Columbus, OH   San Diego, CA   Lexington, KY
Description	Responsible for the development and maintenance of statistical analysis programs to support clients' drug development projects.
Responsibilities	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Implement standard and custom data listing, summary programs, graphs, and statistical figures for inclusion in NDAs.</li><li>• Assist in developing report table specifications.</li><li>• Validation of programs developed.</li><li>• Assimilate database structures.</li><li>• Contribute to project documentation.</li><li>• Develop standard programming procedures.</li><li>• Maintain quality assurance.</li><li>• Support programming needs within STATPROBE.</li></ul>
Experience	At least two years of programming experience. Extensive knowledge of SAS and knowledge of C, C++, Pascal, or other high-level 3rd or 4th generation languages is preferable. Previous experience in troubleshooting and team development is required, as well as the ability to adhere to standards. Some exposure to the pharmaceutical industry is highly desired.
Education	BA or BS in computer science, statistics, mathematics, or information technology.

Interested candidates may submit their resume through our website at www.statprobe.com or via e-mail to hr@statprobe.com

Brad Gray,PHR
Senior Human Resources Specialist
STATPROBE, Inc.
5430 Data Court, Suite 200
Ann Arbor, MI 48108
PH: 734.769.5000 x 1240
E-mail: brad.gray@statprobe.com